Bulldogs snare top recruits

The Bulldog's biggest loss this year is probably John Reid, who was arguably the best coach ever to take charge of a team in the Spencer Gulf League.

However, South are confident that their star centre-half forward, Dennis Russell can take over the coaching reins.

utility, Peter Groves was sadly missed when he was forced out with injury. With Groves fully recovered his presence is certain to make South even stronger.

Apart from Reid, South's chief playmaker, Craig Cook has hung up his boots and rover, Paul Phillips, who probably didn't get the opportunities he deserved at South, has been cleared to Central.

Bulldogs sign Whyalla star

South Augusta Football Club has signed Central Whyalla's Chris Ramsey, who was one of its league major round heroes of last season.

The aggressive forward originally hails from Cleve.

A 23-year-old pharmacist is moving to Port Augusta later this month and will play for South Augusta this season.

Ramsey was an important player in Central's premiership side last year. He performed brilliantly at full forward in the Roosters' final victories against West and North Whyalla.

In three seasons with Central, 1977 and 1980-81, Ramsey made 39 League appearances. During 1981 he represented Whyalla at combined level against Port Pirie and was leading goalkicker for the Roosters with 43 majors.

A leg injury ruled Ramsey out for most of last season's minor round, but after recovering he quickly returned to Central's league side and eventually emerged triumphant in the finals.

In the preliminary final against West he kicked five goals and seven days later added three more in the Roosters' 27 point grand final humiliation of the Magpies.

Ramsey is a tall, strongly built and fearless player who should prove a real asset to the Bulldogs this year.

South whallop weak Wolves

South, keen to atone for last week's disappointing performance against Westies, thrashed Willsden by 192 points.

South's superior teamwork left the Willsden youngsters bewildered and they had two dynamic forwards in rover Chris Struck and full forward Grant McCallum, who kicked 15 goals gone out of the game.

Best for South was undoubtedly Chris Struck, whose nine goals set up South's victory.

Youngster Kym Maule won his wing all day, earning 28 kicks and putting many of them to advantage.

Pat Hynes put in his usual consistent performance picking up 27 kicks as a

South Augusta retain top spot

A six goal burst in sixteen minutes in the first term paved the way for a South Augusta victory on Sunday.

The Bulldogs won 19.11 to 11.13 and in doing so retained top spot on the ladder.

In cold and wet conditions Central won the toss and kicked to the highway end. Gary Wenham and Kym Kickey withdrew from the Central side and were replaced by Peter McIntosh and Bradley McDonald. McDonald was making his 100th SGL appearance.

Apart from Neville Newton scoring a major at the eight minute mark it was all South. The Bulldogs were handling the slippery conditions extremely well. In fact, anyone would have thought it was perfect weather.

The Bulldogs disposal with either kicking or handball was good and the Central defence was in Most of the South players contributed in their at point win. Dennis Russell played a consistent four quarters. He repelled many Central attacks in the first term and later played splendidly in the ruck. In the last term he was at his best up forward notching three goals.

Rovers Barry Kelly and Chris Struck enjoyed good games with a lot of run. Kelly in particular played his best game since joining South from the North Eastern League, when he finished with five goals. In defence Doug Rozee repelled many attacks, while on the last line Rodney Lamahed and Mick Kerin gave their usual 100% commitment.

Central's best player was Gary Shelton. Shelton was a "Rock of Gibraltar" all afternoon and is a tremendous reader of the play. When Shelton does get
