disposed of the 1979 runners up Central Augusta, 14-6. Under their new non playing coach, South Augusta have developed into a fit combination and in the final they showed far better team work than West Augusta. In the first match of the day South Augusta defeated Central Augusta 7-8 to 4-9 in a game in which the Red and Whites were clearly the better team. The West Augusta versus Willaden match saw the purple and whites win their way into the grand final when they defeated Willaden 7-7 to 5-8. The fight for the third and fourth position saw Central Augusta win with a goal from Michael McElliott after the final siren. However Central Augusta should never have got themselves in the position of almost losing the match as halfway through the last 25 minutes they lead Willaden by four goals. But Willaden fought back strongly and with four quick goals the scores were level. In the final South Augusta, after holding a slender 2 points lead, went on to take the pennant but they had to fight hard over the last half. At the 14 minute mark of the last period the scores were locked together at 5-4 each but a goal at the 22 minutes gave South Augusta handy nine points lead. Pat Hynes, the South captain was named as the Man-Of-The-Carnival. Taking a gauge on Sunday's results it does appear as though the four
