players, Robert Rozee in the centre or as a rove and Kim Maule who plays either centre on on wing. Michael Dignan has improved out of sight at centre half forward and the run of Gary Kernhan will be a major asset. Peter Trewartha is settling in at centre half-back after playing on the wing most of last season.

"I will be looking to our running backline to give us plenty of drive.

"There are one or two players who will be pushing for regular A grade places this season namely Iain Elliott who spent most of last season in the reserves, and Jarrod Waterworth could also make the grade.

"Unfortunately, we will be without Ashle Dunkley for the first four weeks or so as he has just had an appendix operation."

Beinke said he was pleased with the number out at training. "We have had 50 to 60 out training and they have put in a lot of hard work and I'm pleased with the fitness angle," he said.

While the Bulldogs have the numbers this season coach Beinke admits there is not too much depth. The club is concentrating on its junior and there are several under 14s who show promise. "We are trying to do the right thing by our juniors and encourage them to stay with the club," Beinke said.

Bulldogs could surprise some of the big boys

South will be looking to improve on last year's sixth position on the premiership table and though it has lost a few big name players coach Brian Beinke said his side will be more than competitive and could surprise some of the big boys.

There are six new signings from out of town — Gary Bush, formerly with Salisbury; Mark Zindorf, Salisbury; Tom Deans, Alice Springs; Russell Taylor, Whyalla; Tony Clough, Kangaroo Island; and Jack Balbles, Adelaide. Add to these the return of Doug Rozee and the Bulldogs will have quite a different line-up from last season.

On the debit side South has lost Chris Natt who has returned to Adelaide; Tony Everett, retired Brenton Storey, Wilmington; Craig Smith, Gladstone; and Rod Leith, Leigh Creek.

The Bulldogs will also be without star player Greg Flanagan who has been advised by his doctor not to risk his arm this season.

South's pre-season form has not been too encouraging for supporters but Beinke said he uses these games as experiments. "We only lost by a couple of goals to Central Whyalla, though the margin was somewhere near 10 goals against Solomontown.

"I tried players in new positions and some of them took to the task with relish.

"We will be looking for big things from ruckmen Tom Deans and Gary Bush, and our running players, Robert Rozee in the centre or as a rove ruck as it again attacked through N. Redford but South's Mark Shirley rebounded with a long direct kick and Adrian Maloney marked strongly and goaled.

For the next 15 minutes it was a battle of defences and some very scrumbly play until late in the term Jason Waterworth took a good mark and kicked a long goal, his first in SGL football.

From the bounce Robert Rozee kicked long into the forward area and Michael Dignan gathered the ball off the pack in the square to goal right on the siren, with South 19 points in the lead.

As the second term commenced South had placed Greg Flanagan loose in defence. It was a

To commence the third term it was evident the defences were very much in control as the forwards of both teams were having to contend with some very ordinary ball delivery from further afield.

Port drew first blood in the second half as C. Polard played on after receiving a F.A.D. and goaled. It then took South 20 minutes to score its first goal of the term.

Gary Kernahan starting to control the rucks handballed to Maloney, whose long kick found Dignan just outside the goal square, for a goal.

South skates to its third win in a row

South Augusta won its third win on the trot as it surfed to a 19-point victory over fifth-placed Willsden.

In its credit Willsden was out State representatives South had an added incentive as Ashleigh Dunkley was leading his 150 Spencer Gulf

First term commenced in rain with Willsden kicking the highway end and unloosed the players a little attitude and handled the very well under the condi-and easy shots were missed and luck went against them as post was hit twice. Both teams were battling opponents' conditions as the siren sounded to end the first term with Willsden four points in the lead.

Rain continued to fall as the second term commenced and water collected in pools around the boundary and the centre area was very slippery.

Paul May, for Willsden, was continuing his good form from the first term only to see South defence hold steady and repel many Willsden attacks.

Both teams were trying to play fair weather long kicking football, overhead marks were impossible. To Willsden's credit it adapted quicker and its shorter game flourished, but South's persistence and from a kick off the ground found Robert Rozee in front. His snap shot was a good effort and a much needed goal.

influence on the game and it was Ferber who broke the drought with a mark which came over the pack and fell into his arms to goal easily.

South cleared the ball from the centre bounce but Neville Newchurch and Danny Leverenz stood steadfast in defence. The forwards of both teams were being soundly defeated.

It was 24 minutes into the term when Davey, unattended in front, marked and kicked Willsden into the lead just as the siren sound the third term with Willsden two points in the lead.

Under threatening skies the fourth term began as players prepared for a slogging final session. Players to their credit played out the game as in the other three terms.

There was some water skiing thrown in for patrons who braved the elements in the grandstand.

South Maule Tigers

Risdon's chance of making the finals now looks rather slim following its untimely loss to the much improved South Augusta who fought back in the final term to win by 15 points.

Both sides gave it their all providing a good display of skills — with Risdon predominant in this area.

South took a short-lived early lead after Gary Kernahan marked strongly and goaled but the Tigers fought their way back into the game and at one stage held a 19-point lead.

The Tigers were winning across the centre with Michael Gurr and Craig Oliphant giving their forwards plenty of opportunities. Some strong defensive work by South kept the deficit to only 11 points at the first change.

Gary Kernahan became the focal point of the Southerners attacks and he capped off some good work with the first three goals of the second term.

Scott Aldridge scored Risdon's only goal for the term but Kym Maule and Rob Rozee gave South the lead at half was not quite as damaging on his half back flank.

Risdon coach Peter Arnold made some position changes at half time that paid dividends in the vital third term.

Hadyn Bentley went into ruck, Trevor McDonald, centre half forward, David Afford to full forward and Simon Brown to full back.

McDonald and Afford scored two goals apiece and the Tigers were playing well. They were backing up and running the ball and, but for a few mistakes, could have been further than three points in front at three quarter time.

South's defence was under heavy pressure in that third term but stood up well to hold the Tigers to only 5-5 which should have been more.

Ashley Afford got Risdon off to a great start in the first term by kicking a goal inside the first minute.

But Kym Maule, who had been taking some strong marks at centre half forward, goaled twice to give South back the lead and it never looked like losing from there.

Shirley and South celebrate first win

IAN ELLIOTT

South Augusta recorded its first win of the season at the expense of 19th team Proprietary, it was a good result for Mark Shirley playing his 100 SGL game.

He started a good day by winning the toss and South never looked back. Umpires Connors (PP) and Reston (PA) were in attendance.

South started in great style when Claude Madrici passed to Michael Dignan who marked and guided within a minute, then the Bulldogs turned on their best football for the season as goals rained.

Troy Collins at centre was a strong bulwark and goals as Kym Maule (3), Ian Elliot and Madrici (1) was the best start the Bulldogs had had this season.

Props Richie Smith was battling the odds and one of his individual efforts forced Paul Brennan who ran into an easy goal. Props attacked again but Doug Rozee rebounded to Troy Collins whose pass found Elliot for a good goal.

From the bounce Props attacked and Richie Smith guided after receiving a free kick as a result of poor tackling by defenders, the siren sounded to end the first term.

good defence by Doug Rozee and Shirley kept them at bay until Gary Jamar found Aaron Witt in front for a strong mark and he goaled.

Jamar and Myles were lifting their efforts as did Benton, who gave Smith another goal as he roved the pack for an easy major.

Jim Bell gathered the ball from the centre bounce and Witt received a free kick when defenders punched the ball away but interfered with a crude tackle, for another goal.

South seemed to have lost momentum and Props running players took control. Greg Flanagan used some heavy body work making openings for the South runners but Myles, Smith, Bell of Props took the initiative. A Jamar footpass found McCormack in front for a strong mark and goal.

It was all Props, South had only managed one point to this stage and were being runover, late in the term Stephen Stark passed to Witt for an easy goal his personal third for the term.

Props had whittled South's lead to 10 points at the end
